

ALEX DEL MONACCO JOINS CAST OF HELL-EPHONE

Richmond, KY - June 8, 2008: ZP International Film Productions announced today the addition of the lovely and talented Alex Del Monaco to the cast of their feature film, Hell-ephone, slated for a fall 2008 release.

In her modeling career, Alex Del Monaco has appeared in literally hundreds of fitness magazines, swimsuit layouts, calendars and fashion covers. She has also been a hostess at a number of horror-genre film festivals including Fright Night Film Fest and the Texas Fear Fest

On gearing her career towards film she says, "I am pursuing challenging roles in Sci-Fi and Drama films, and not the cheesy dumb blonde one-liner roles that many former-models-turned-actresses settle for. It's always great to have someone behind you that will support your best interests of your career. My acting manager is always backing my decisions, and helps me find the best opportunities out there."

In Hell-ephone Del Monaco has been cast as Karen Thomas, a psychologist hired as a profiler by the F.B.I to help solve the Sea Monster serial killer case.

"I really enjoyed working on this film; I look forward to bringing this movie to my fans!" said Del Monaco, "The Cast and crew were so much fun! All I can say is move over there's a new big boy on the block and that's ZP International!"

Hell-ephone is the seventh feature film to come from the Richmond, KY based film studio. George Bonilla is directing the project, which is currently filming. Bonilla is the award-winning director of The Edison Death Machine.

This will be Alex Del Monaco's first role in a horror film, although George Bonilla is quick to mention that "Classifying Hell-ephone as strictly a 'horror' film is selling it a bit short. It's more of a police drama, and a mystery, neatly packaged inside a horror film."

"Alex Del Monaco is a true professional, and it was an honor to have her on our set," said Bonilla. "She endured some very uncomfortable special effects make-up, and still gave her all to the performance. Wait until you see the film, you'll be amazed."

Hell-ephone also features horror-film icons Ari Lehman and John Dugan, and centerfold model Melissa Wolf. The film stars Billy W. Blackwell, Kate Stanley, Jason Crowe, Michael Shouse, Frank Santoroski, and Leslie Rogers. Executive producers on the project are Tammy Bonilla, Belinda Cooke, Todd Burrows, Russell Coy II, and Douglas Campbell. Jerry Williams serves as the Assistant Director.

Hell-ephone is scheduled to wrap in late Summer, and be released in Fall 2008. Please visit <http://www.zpmovies.com> for more information. Alex Del Monaco maintains a website at www.myspace.com/alexdelmonacco
